Summer 2005

Dear Friends,

We were able to hold the 2005 Legislative session in the newly renovated Capitol. I'm very impressed with the work done on the historic Legislative Building. Great efforts were made to preserve the building's historical integrity while making needed repairs. The domed building is as beautiful as ever and now features 21st century structural improvements. Once again, it is open to the public for tours. During session, you can observe the House and Senate in action from the galleries. When planning your visit to Olympia, I encourage you to contact our helpful tour office at: (360) 586-8687.

We're not done with structural upgrades to these older buildings on the Capitol campus. The building my office used to be in, the John A. Cherberg Building, is currently undergoing renovation. For the 2006 session my office will be located in room 102 of the Joel M. Prichard Building, just across from the Capitol Building.

For middle and high school students interested in learning more about state government, the Senate Page Program is an excellent opportunity. More information on how to apply is at the back of this booklet. We will be accepting applications at the beginning of the 2005-06 school year. Feel free to contact my office for more information.

I firmly believe that an active citizenry is essential to a strong democracy. I hope you will use this Government Guide to contact with me and your other elected officials about issues that are important to you and our community.

Take care and keep in touch,

HOW TO BECOME A PAGE FOR THE WASHINGTON STATE SENATE

The Washington State Legislature has one of the most comprehensive page programs in the United States. Hundreds of students throughout Washington State have an opportunity each year to take part in the legislative process. To serve as a page, a student must meet several requirements including:

- grade point average of C+ or better;
- be at least 14 years of age and have not reached 17th birthday;
- parent/guardian permission;
- principal/teacher permission;
- contact their senator for a page application; and
- Social Security Number (must be obtained before paging appointment)

A page's work schedule goes from Sunday through Saturday. The workday begins at 7:45 a.m. and usually ends at 5 p.m., although pages may work longer if the Senate is still in session. In addition, pages are expected to work both Saturday and Sunday if the Senate works during a weekend. Page home facilities and transportation to and from the Capitol are available.

The uniform is a white blouse or shirt and black slacks or dress pants. The Senate furnishes the pages with a jacket.

For further questions about being a page in Olympia, please call my Olympia office at (360) 786-7662.

Senator Fairley and Carson Bowlin take time for a photograph on the floor of the Senate. Carson was in the 11th grade at Kings High School in Shoreline while serving as a page during the 2005 Legislative Session. He is interested in politics and pursues many opportunities that develop his leadership skills. As a page, he was able to experience the legislative process firsthand.

How Your Voice Can Be Heard

Washington has one of the most open legislatures in the country. Every bill being considered by the House or Senate must be discussed in open hearings before the appropriate committees. The general public is welcome and encouraged to attend committee hearings and to testify on issues important to them.

While words like “hearing” and “testify” may sound forbidding, they simply represent your opportunity to come to Olympia and tell lawmakers how you feel before action is taken on an issue. For more information on how to testify effectively, write or call the Legislative Information Center at 360-786-7573.

You can leave messages supporting or opposing bills or issues for your state representatives, senator and the governor by calling the toll-free Legislative Hotline at 1-800-562-6000. The hotline is available Monday through Friday from 8 am to noon and 1 pm to 4:30 pm during the interim. During the legislative session they are available Monday through Friday from 8 am until 8 pm and Saturday from 9 am to 1 pm. When you call, be prepared to leave your name, address and telephone number so we can contact you after receiving your message.

It's helpful if you are specific about the issue or bill you are calling about, and who should receive your message. If you don't get through the first time, please try again.

The Washington State Legislature

Washington has two legislative bodies representing 49 legislative districts. The House of Representatives has 98 members serving two-year terms. The Senate has 49 members serving four-year terms. There are two representatives and one senator from each legislative district, comprised of approximately 120,000 people.

The Legislature convenes in regular session each year on the second Monday in January. The sessions are constitutionally limited to 105 days in odd-numbered years and 60 days in even-numbered years. Extraordinary or special sessions may be called by the governor, or the Legislature may call itself into session by a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Legislative Information on the Internet

In the interest of improved public access to legislative information, the Washington State Legislature has created the LEGInfo public access service on the Internet at www.leg.wa.gov.
